New GVR Foundation Makes Bold Move for Economic Development

We can probably all agree that it takes work to keep our Green Valley Recreation, Inc. and Green Valley, Arizona, looking sharp as a premiere destination for active adults and retirees. Within GVR, there’s internal pressure to present highly functional and well-maintained facilities plus the highest levels of service at an affordable cost. Externally, the task may be even more difficult when considering public infrastructure needs and attracting new economic and business development.

Green Valley is unincorporated, and no one entity speaks with authority for the entire community. The local Chamber of Commerce recognizes this shortcoming and in May 2015 invited Green Valley Recreation, Inc. (GVR) as a “key community leader” to join an alliance to “Create a plan of action and cooperation for both the community and economic advancement of Green Valley.” The Chamber of Commerce realizes that GVR is a paramount Green Valley economic driver and major attraction for active adults and retirees.

Growing Anticipation

GVR ‘picklers’ soon to have their day on the new courts

It must be agony for GVR’s “picklers” to see the four newly-poured pickleball courts at East Center, only to have to wait for them to properly cure before being opened. Like watching paint dry or waiting for ketchup to flow from the bottle. These days, GVR’s “picklecam” – a live video stream on GVR’s website that shows court construction progress – has little activity other than a passing bee or blowing leaf.

But soon – in mid-August – GVR will be officially opening the four new pickleball courts at East Center with a very Grand Opening. This celebratory event with speakers, refreshments, a commemorative gift and promotional items will be held mid-morning before the sun rises too high in the sky, so that players can christen the new courts and begin playing. Custom Courts, Inc. of Scottsdale, which was awarded the contract, began construction in June after GVR’s Board approved $150,000 toward the project.

With all the giddy anticipation, it’s hard to imagine that less than a year ago the subject of building new pickleball courts to accommodate growing demand spurred very heated debate at GVR’s Racquet Sport (cont. pg. 3)

Proposed Boundary Expansion Forum Well Attended

About 400 members filled West Center Auditorium on June 23 for a member forum to get answers to their questions about the proposed Boundary Expansion Referendum, which, if approved, would extend GVR’s boundaries to allow eight homeowners associations (HOAs) to voluntarily join GVR.

viable internet presence, Green Valley is hindered in its ability to publicize its specialness to the world. This community need is long-standing and appears generally accepted as fact by the business community. That’s where GVR and the newly established tax-exempt GVR Foundation come into play.

The GVR Foundation (GVRF), formed in 2014 with encouragement and approval of GVR’s Board of Directors, recently adopted its mission: “To enrich the lives of GVR members and community residents through advocacy, programs, and financial support that promote health and wellness in Green Valley, Arizona.” In a creative effort to begin acting upon its mission, the GVRF took a bold step and submitted an innovative grant application in May 2015 to the Freeport-McMoRan Foundation. Grow Green Valley, Arizona is the title of the GVRF’s innovative project. The idea for this grant project aligns with one of Freeport-McMoRan Foundation’s community priority and focus areas – economic and tourism development. Funding decisions and awards will be announced in September 2015.

In a nutshell, GVRF’s Grow Green Valley, Arizona! proposes to develop a web property that promotes Green Valley, Arizona as a premier destination for active adults and retirees, and improves its position on Internet search engines. The new web property would provide a “one-stop” economic development tool to attract new residents and tourists to Green Valley by leveraging GVRs resort-type amenities and member-owned homes. Only GVR member homes (for sale and rent) may be posted on the web property, which will add value to GVR homeowners. Once online, marketed and promoted, the web property has the potential to generate increased demand for local housing and boost economic development, enterprise opportunities, and revenue for local businesses through increased patronage. This will lead to a perpetual increase in Green Valley tourism and sales and rentals of GVR member homes. These activities would result in even greater business development and tourism in future years, as more active adults and retirees visit the area as tourists, part-time tenants, potential homeowners, and year-round residents. The web property will also enable community nonprofit organizations to gain local and national exposure that develops greater awareness of their respective projects.

Pickleball

Task Force meetings.
Pickleball is the number one growing sport in America. Fanatics have been known to purchase their homes right next to a court so that they can play all day. Popular with both active adults and kids, the sport is now offered in middle and high schools, right along with football, tennis and baseball. So what’s all the fuss about this sport?

Created in 1965, pickleball has been gaining popularity worldwide with the number of players tripling from just 2010, according to the USA Pickleball Association (USAPA). The sport is a hybrid of tennis, badminton and table tennis, and players use a paddle and wiffle ball. The game is easy and fun, and players get a serious cardio workout from running around the scaled-down version of a tennis court. Donna Coon, president of GVR’s Pickleball Club who was intricately involved in the design and planning of the newly constructed pickleball courts, says the club is excited about the opening of the courts.

“The completion of the courts will be a big event for the 602 members of our club. With seven courts available last winter, the ‘pickleballers’ spent more time waiting for their turn to play than they actually spent on the court!” Coon continued, “we can offer more opportunities for all of the pickleball players to participate in drop-in play and structured play, such as round robins and ladder leagues.”

The sport has grown so much in popularity that GVR is expanding the number of tiered pickleball classes in GVR’s Fall and Winter Course Catalogs. Taught by instructors Paul May and Carol Hammerle, both ambassadors with the USAPA, the classes offered are for beginners and intermediate players. May will teach four sections of Pickleball 101, which focuses on the basics of court layout, rules, etiquette, grip, position and drills for serves and returns, while Hammerle’s intermediate/advanced class helps students sharpen their game with game strategy and third shot drops, drives, lobs, smashes, and mid-court volleys.

For those wishing to learn the sport, the GVR Pickleball Club offers assisted play late afternoons on Tuesdays and Thursdays with drop-in sessions for those who know the basics of the game but need more practice before joining regular play for beginners. The club also is purchasing a pickleball ball machine, which will be used in GVR’s pickleball classes, the club’s “skills and drills” sessions, and will be available for players to use on the reserve court.

“These are going to be first rate courts,” explains Jim Conroy, GVR’s director of Recreation & Leisure Services. “We are very appreciative of the GVR Pickleball Club’s and Donna Coon’s involvement in the design process. Donna came to one of our meetings with a detailed drawing, and our contractor was just blown away. Having the club’s input on this project was so invaluable. We can’t wait to open the courts for play.”

A project evolves, it can introduce a “personalized orientation program” to the local community that invites interested parties to envision Green Valley as their home, complete with all needed services. The web property may also eventually offer a business relocation marketing function, as active adults and retirees who choose to relocate to Green Valley will bring some non-brick and mortar businesses with them. The Project activities of this economic development and tourism initiative lead to long-term benefits and economic viability for Green Valley by: a) broadening the coalition of organizations responsible for business and tourism development through an Advisory Committee; b) creating a dynamic interactive and transactional web property (content, functionality, design) for promoting Green Valley; c) attracting more tourists and permanent residents to relocate in Green Valley; d) creating a new, consistent and sustainable revenue stream that provides ongoing financial support to administer the web property in perpetuity, and e) donating net proceeds to help sustain local nonprofit organizations and enable them to expand their service reach.

An Advisory Board to help guide web property development and ensure broad-based representation has been established. It is comprised of Project Partners and representatives of other community organizations, including GVRF, GVR, Green Valley Council, Green Valley/Sahuarita Association of Realtors, Green Valley/Sahuarita Chamber of Commerce, Alliance for Economic Development, and the Greater Green Valley Community Foundation. Even though we will not know until September if the GVRF grant application will be funded by the Freeport-McMoRan Foundation, we remain optimistic and excited about the potential of Grow Green Valley, Arizona, and plans for the inaugural meeting of the Advisory Board are going forward.

“The Great One,” NHL’s Wayne Gretsky, wrote “You miss 100% of the shots you never take.” The new GVR Foundation has taken a shot at adding value to GVR homeowners and in making Green Valley grin.

Boundary Forum

During the nearly three hour forum, GVR President Joe Gunton and CEO Kent Blumenthal presented information about the Growth Task Force and the process that led to the ballot proposal, and discussed the need to generate additional revenue to sustain facilities and build up reserve funds for future major capital improvements and projects.

GVR will soon embark on a year-long comprehensive facility assessment of all its facilities that will result in a ten year strategic facility plan with recommendations for improvements. Funding will be needed to implement the recommendations included in the report.

Gunton explained that allowing homeowners from the eight HOAs to join GVR could provide significant revenue over time. “The minimum revenue for 2016 is projected at $54,174 and the maximum revenue could be $159,268. However, over 11 years, recurring income could produce a minimum of $1,000,872 and a maximum projected revenue of $2,034,650.”

Gunton and Blumenthal pointed out that the 2009 Reserve Study recommended that GVR should have a minimum of $6.7 million in capital reserve funds by 2015, but that only $3.38 million has been added to the fund in the past 18 months in an attempt to catch up.

Following the presentation, 19 members commented or asked questions, which were addressed. Questions from the forum were captured and added to the Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) with responses and posted on GVR’s website. The forum also was videotaped and is available for viewing at www.gvrec.org.

The orange post card-sized ballots were mailed July 13 and the postmarked deadline for return is Monday, August 10, 2015. Members also had the opportunity to request that the ballot be emailed to them electronically. Emailed ballots must be printed, completed and mailed to GVR by the postmarked Aug. 10 deadline.

A Tellers Committee comprised of volunteers will count the ballots with oversight by the Nominations & Elections Committee. A majority of the votes cast by GVR members will decide the ballot issue. The results of the referendum proposal will be announced at the August 25 GVR Board of Directors Meeting.

WC Lobby Restrooms Remodeled for Easier Accessibility

The West Center lobby men’s and women’s restrooms were recently remodeled in late July to allow easier access for people using wheelchairs and other mobility devices and those with stability or balance problems or who are recovering from surgery and need a larger stall.

The restrooms will be reduced by one stall each in order to add a larger ADA-compliant stall. Grab bars and fixed equipment were installed in consideration of the limited reach range of users. Additional grab bars were installed in peripheral stalls and some compartments are deeper and wider as available floor space allowed. These upgrades were long overdue, and thanks to our Facilities Maintenance staff, they have been addressed!

Exit the Pool with Thunder and Lightning

The monsoon season continues into August, and Green Valley will have its fair share of thunder storms. GVR members should be aware of the weather at all times, especially when they are in a pool or spa, whether indoor or outdoors.

Swimming pools and spas are connected to a much larger surface area via underground water pipes, gas lines, electric and telephone wiring etc. Lightning strikes to the ground anywhere on this metallic network could induce shocks elsewhere. For your own safety, whenever you see lightning or hear thunder – even in the distance – exit the pool or spa immediately and do not wait to be told. Lightning can strike up to 20 miles away.

Volunteer Opportunities Tours

Green Valley Recreation is teaming up with three other local non-profit organizations to offer “show and tell” tours to help those who want to volunteer learn about all of the amazing opportunities at GVR and other local organizations.

The Greater Green Valley Community Foundation (GGVCF), Friends in Deed, and the Green Valley Sahuarita Volunteer Clearinghouse are organizing weekly tours to educate residents about services that the non-profit sector offers within the community. GVR was one stop on the trial run tour on July 22.

If all goes well, these free tours will be conducted weekly with stops at places like GVR, the Animal League of Green Valley, White Elephant and others. The Clearinghouse will promote the program and schedule tours. Friends in Deed will provide transportation, and GGVCF will help with expenses.

“The Community Foundation is responding to the request of several non-profits to get more individuals familiar with their organizations, other than just utilizing services,” said Michelle Phillips, GGVCF executive director. “And when you familiarize a person with the organization, a relationship ensues where many become volunteers and donors,” she added.

Now that the first “experimental” tour is over, these organizations will review results of their post-tour survey to determine where the program will go from there.

“We plan to spend about ten minutes at each location where an ‘ambassador’ from that organization will talk about what they have to offer,” said John Geiger of the Volunteer Clearinghouse. “If all goes well, we probably will visit each location about once a month.” For more information about the volunteer tours, contact GGVCC at (520) 625-4556.

AUGUST FITNESS ORIENTATION SCHEDULE

Fitness Center orientation sessions are free and provide information on the value of exercise and how to properly use equipment. Fitness orientations are approximately 1 ½ to 2 hours and conducted by Certified Personal Trainers. Orientations start with an individual assessment that compares your fitness level with the national average for your gender and age. Following the assessments, the trainer will instruct participants on the proper use of fitness equipment.

If you are not interested in participating in the introduction and only want to learn how to use equipment, please arrive around 45 minutes after the beginning of the class. GVR fitness centers are open from 5:30 am to 9 pm. To reserve a spot in a class, members must register at any staffed social center, the Member Services Center, or by calling (520) 625-3440.

Free Volunteer Showing of ‘Arizona’ Movie Aug. 19

All GVR volunteers are invited to a free showing of “ARIZONA,” at 2 pm Wednesday, August 19 at West Center Auditorium and guests are welcome. Celebrating its 75th anniversary, ARIZONA is the first movie shot at the Old Tucson Studios and movie goers will enjoy recognizing many familiar places in the Sonoran Desert.

Starring Jean Arthur and William Holden, the movie is an epic tale about a whip-carrying, rifle-toting hellion (Arthur) who single-handedly transforms a dirt-poor Army outpost into Tucson!

Movie-goers will be treated to free hot dogs, beans, chips, popcorn, beverages and prizes! The hot dogs will be grilled by members of the Green Valley Optimist Club, who wish to honor GVR volunteers. Veggie dogs and beans also will be available. Seating is limited, so register early at any open GVR office or by contacting Maureen McCarthy at 520-838-0160 or at maureen@gvrec.org. Reference CR #32193.

Is your pet at risk for Dental Disease?

Do you want to DRAMATICALLY lower your pet’s risk for heart, liver and kidney disease? When it comes to your pet’s teeth, what you don’t see can really hurt them! Taking care of your pet’s teeth will save you money in the long run avoiding infections and disease; and, it will definitely improve the quality of your pet’s life as she ages.

What about anesthesia free dental cleanings?
- My pet’s teeth look fine, but his breath smells, should I be worried?
- Why does it cost so much more for my pet to have dental care than it does for me?
- I should brush my pet’s teeth daily, but I forget. Is there any benefit if I brush less often?

The Green Valley Table Tennis Club has been a “traveling” club for a number of years until finding a permanent home at West Center. The club’s first location was at Continental Vistas beginning around 1986 with three tables. Table tennis was then moved to the West Center, then to Desert Hills and Santa Rita Springs and back to Desert Hills. Their motto was for many years, “Have paddle, will travel!”

The club offers table tennis play a few times a week at the West Center from 8-11 am with additional play on weekends. During the winter months, the Table Tennis Club has about 40 members who play on up to 10 tables, with most players preferring doubles play. For those new to the sport or needing a refresher, the club offers instruction on Wednesday mornings.

The annual club member dues is $10, and guests are invited to play without charge up to three times. All GVR members are welcomed to join this fun and friendly sport where there are enough tables for guests and individuals to play.

For more information or if you have questions, please contact Horace Puglisi, club president at HGPuglisi@gmail.com or call (802) 728-5287. (Horace is currently in Vermont, so there is a three hour time difference.) The club’s website, which includes the monthly schedule, is www.green-valleyttc.com.
